Risk dial updated for the Panhandle each Tuesday
Three more cases, fourth COVID-19 related death announced
Panhandle total: 338, Active: 106, Recovered: 228, Deaths: 4

Scotts Bluff County reports the fourth death in the Panhandle, a male in his 80s with underlying health conditions.

“We share our deepest condolences with the family of this gentleman,” said Paulette Schnell, Director of Scotts Bluff County Health Department. “As a community, it’s critical we continue taking every precaution against the COVID-19 virus for our most vulnerable.”

Panhandle Unified Command has begun updating a weekly COVID-19 Risk Dial to provide a summary of current conditions for the Panhandle Public Health District jurisdiction. Each color incorporates federal and national guidance published by top public health experts and is coupled with specific guidance.

Please be advised this is guidance only and does not replace federal, state, or local direct health measures. At-risk and vulnerable populations should take stringent precautions.
